

Ravenswood Family Health Center (RFHC) is a nonprofit community health center that makes health care available to anyone - regardless of ability to pay. Our comprehensive program includes pediatric and adult medical care, prenatal care, chronic disease case management, behavioral health counseling, prevention and health education services, and dental services. RFHC operates a clinic in East Palo Alto and in Belle Haven, Menlo Park as well as a Mobile Health Clinic that provides services at school sites and one afternoon a week to the homeless. Over 10,000 patients will receive care in 2008.

Most of our patients are residents of East Palo Alto, East Menlo Park, and Redwood City, but an estimated 5% come from cities in Santa Clara County and Alameda County.

- o Over 92% are Latino, African American, Pacific Islander and Asian
- o 96% live at or below 200% of federal poverty level
- o 63% have no health insurance
- o 65% prefer a language other than English
- o 44% of the patient population is 12 years and younger

Over 22,300 people have been enrolled as patients since RFHC opened six years ago.

INTEGRATED SERVICES

RFHC benefits from strong partnerships with Lucile Packard Children's Hospital, Palo Alto Medical Foundation, Kaiser Permanente, and San Mateo County Health Services and Medical Center.

Funded by a combination of government and foundation grants, public health insurance and donor support, RFHC is keeping pace with a steady increase in the number of uninsured and low-income families coming to RFHC for services.

In 2009 RFHC will complete a full service dental clinic and launch a capital campaign to build 10,000 sq ft modular building with 16 exam rooms, space for behavioral health services, health education, and the addition of optometry and x-ray.

There are many ways to get involved with RFHC. Here are some ideas:

- o Tell others about what RFHC is doing
- o Call to find out about volunteer opportunities
- o Lend professional expertise (Writing, Marketing, Web Development, etc) to help RFHC projects/fundraising efforts
- o Host a gathering of friends in your home to hear about RFHC from our CEO and board/staff members
- o Become an advocate trained to speak on behalf of RFHC
- o Invite friends to come to for a Brunch Tour of Ravenswood Family Health Center
